Spring Bible Classes

Next Sunday marks the beginning of a new slate of Bible classes for teenagers and adults. If you have not been attending a class regularly, find one that most interests you and invest yourself in it. Discipleship is about more than attending Bible class, but being a part of a regular Bible group can help all of us follow more closely after Jesus. Here are our classes for the spring:

Sunday Teens & Wednesday Adults — Jonah: The Prodigal Prophet

Everyone remembers Jonah because of the big fish, but sadly, this memorable prophet is not much of a spiritual hero. So why study about him? Because his life serves as both a reminder of God’s abundant mercy towards all and a warning for those who despise His mercy. The adults will join Blaine Kelly on Wednesday nights and the teens will study with John Dean on Sunday mornings as both classes gain valuable insights from this “Prodigal Prophet.”

Sunday Mustard Seeds — Daniel: Young Man in a Big World

At a relatively young age, Daniel finds himself far away from home in Babylon, serving pagan kings who had destroyed his nation and home. It can be tough navigating life in a culture where the One True God is not respected, but sometimes you have to get out of Jerusalem to discover just how big God is. Join Tom Montgomery and discover how this ancient book resonates in today’s world.

Wednesday Teens — Ephesians

Of all of the churches mentioned in the New Testament, we know the most about Ephesus. In Paul’s letter to the brothers and sisters there, he highlights God’s eternal plan for the church as people remade in the image of His Son. Ben Shafer and the teens will use their Wednesday evenings to dive deeper into a study of this important letter.

Sunday Auditorium — Acts

David Willbanks continues an in-depth look into the book that helps us see the faith, fellowship, and exponential growth of disciples in the first century.

Follow This This Week

Read 1 Corinthians 1:4. The church in Corinth brought many challenges Paul’s way, but he still gave thanks for them. Following his example, give thanks this week for brothers and sisters who are different than you and sometimes challenge you.
