Kathryn Willbanks continues to wait for full biopsy results before she and David determine her course of treatment.

Laura Campbell's father Jerry Ivey is slowly progressing from surgery. Kristi Barnes asks prayers for 14-year-old Peyton who is recovering from kidney surgery. The Lawsons ask prayers for their nephew's wife Becky Lawson who had surgery for pancreatic cancer. Donna George asks prayers for her aunt Eunice Seale who is making progress with COVID-19. Thank YOU!

I want to thank each of you for continuing to press on through these challenging times. The concern for our and others' health, the uncertainty of jobs and finances, the separation from family and friends, and the general disruption of life are taxing on all of us. However, I personally know of how so many of you continue to rise up in faith, hope and love. It really has helped me get through many days. It also encourages me when I stand in the empty auditorium to know that so many of you are on the "other side" of the camera.

Our livestream services have been such a blessing, haven't they? So many of you have expressed your appreciation for Josh's efforts in getting things up and running so effectively. We all have also been blessed by Caroline's creative talents, especially through her engaging way of teaching the children. Thanks also to those who have taken the time to record yourselves or your children to encourage us as we worship together. We're striving to incorporate even more of our members' faces and voices on screen in the weeks ahead.

It certainly doesn't replace us being together, but being online allows for some unique blessings and opportunities. Christians from all over the country and world have been joining us! Many of our members who have moved away over the years join us every week. So too are some of our members' friends and families who do not worship anywhere regularly. A number of our neighbors in the Lakeway area are also tuning in to worship and study with us. Praise God for this!

As we get ready for this Sunday, I can't help but think about how this will be an Easter Sunday we will never forget. I also recognize that some will especially be looking for a worship service to join online. This is yet another opportunity for us! I encourage you to reach out to invite others to worship with us.

I also want to commend our church family for the ways we have been looking after one another. Our shepherds have been working diligently to keep in touch with each household. There are multiple examples of members helping each other, makings things for others and sharing with one another. Thank you to all for your Christ-like charity and service!

As followers of Christ, we do not live in denial of our challenging times or the ways some are suffering right now. However, we live as those who have hope. A recurring phrase in Scripture is "in a little while." I keep telling myself things will be better "in a little while." And even though I don't know exactly when that will be, I know they will. I know that because in light of eternity, all of our troubles are only for a little while. Keep loving one another. May God bless us all. — Blaine
